

economic and social affairs, as do the 2010 and 2020 Strategic Plans. The documents announce comprehensive economic reforms, which are initially to be given precedence over political transformation. They stress the importance of democratizing the public administration system without weakening the vertical power structure, and of building a market economy that grants the state a significant role and the power to regulate economic affairs. Political reforms in the direction of democratization are not mentioned in the 2030 Strategy itself; however, the 2010 and 2020 Strategic Plans define political modernization as an objective. Specifically, the 2020 Strategic Plan stipulates that, by the year 2020, Kazakhstan will have built modern, effective, and transparent party and electoral systems; the role of parliament will have been strengthened; political parties will have more say in state political processes; and local authorities will make use of their full capacities. By the year 2020, therefore, democratic and civil society institutions will have become an integral part of the social and political system of Kazakhstan.
